Will they solve the riddle of the Athabaska tar sands?

The world's largest oil supply is locked within these strange deposits. Nobody has successfully tapped it. Now another company is taking the gamble — to the tune of $4 millions. Can it succeed where so many failed?

Will they get off their seats? There is a lot of talk about the Athabasca River and its complex oil, water and land issues and environmentalists who say it's just more damage that they can't take.

It's good to be able to shop around

Gasoline and other oil products are available in hundreds of outlets in Canada at varying prices and quality.

Some of Canadian companies are engaged in the oil business, all competing for the consumer's dollar.

They compete with each other in bringing out more and better products each year, especially improved gasoline for today's more powerful engines.

They compete vigorously for your business, knowing that you will shop for the quality, price, and service you like.

Competition among oil companies means a wide variety of products and lower prices too.
